Hondros College

Enjoy regular support from course instructors through live Q&A sessions, direct 1-on-1 access, and email interactions for questions and discussion.

We offer three learning modalities: in-person classroom instruction, online self-paced courses, and livestream classes, which offer the convenience of online learning, but with the interactions of a classroom. Find out which is right for you.

Our courses are taught by the most knowledgeable and respected instructors in Ohio who are active in today's markets, keep up-to-date on the latest industry trends and issues, and make learning easy by sharing real-life experiences. Our instructors truly care about our students and are always available for questions.

While our courses are effortless to take, we're still available to help you whenever you need it. Our friendly and supportive Student Services Team is on hand to answer questions through our convenient chat, email, and call options.

Other Real Estate Schools

Other schools don't provide instructor 1-on-1 time or Q&A sessions. If you do have access to an instructor, often the only type of interaction is through email, which translates to potentially long wait times for student needs.

Learning options are limited with other real estate schools. You'll find most offer only one type: online only or classroom only. With Hondros College, you get to choose the learning style that best fits your needs.

Other schools may only have a handful of real estate instructors, many of whom are busy real estate professionals or are not based in Ohio. This limits the facetime and 1-on-1 instruction they can provide.

Other schools may have limited communication options and hours of operation resulting in longer wait times.
